Now That You Put It That Way . . .

Despite inflation, a penny for most people's thoughts is still a fair price.

Horse-Trading With Developers

Unless the City of Belle Glade formulates a policy about city planning regarding planners, subdividers and developers, or otherwise modern city will drop a notch in social development and resort to the art of friendly—or otherwise—horse-trading about what to do for streets, drainage and water lines.

Presently, the city commission's policy appears to be: "The developer pays." There is no clear-cut announcement of principle or policy as such, however.

Each time a developer wants water lines and street development, he appears before the city council to plead his case in eloquent rhetoric while the council sits doodling on paper or reflecting on the TV programs they might be missing. When the speaker concludes his 45-minute oratory, the council, manager, and others in silent declare that they are regretful that they can do little or nothing.

The developer then conjures up the ghosts of previous councils, long-forgotten "deals" made with former administrations and ultimately threatens to take his money elsewhere to invest in something outside Belle Glade where the loss of revenue and other considerations is deeply felt in our city.

While it is business-like for the present commission to abide by agreements made in good faith by other administrations, they are faced with the problems of first proving that these agreements existed. It's time and money wasted when each year a developer must horse-trade with a different commission to learn how he may proceed to expand our city.

Let's not wait for white-collar scientists to solve our problems when the combined intelligence of our leaders can do well enough—if the action comes now. Let's stop making separate deals and design a sensible city development policy.

We suggest a three way improvement bond, bearing proper interest — on the high side — payable annually, on or before. One third of the cost of improvements paid by each side of street, with the City paying one third.

Going Hand In Hand In Style

There are still a few firms in the Belle Glade area who have never once considered the logic of belonging to their Chamber of Commerce. Ben Franklin, Abe Lincoln and Franklin D. Roosevelt each had pet sayings about belonging, about unity and community spirit.

Brother Franklin said, "We must all hang together or assuredly we shall hang separately." Honest Abe quipped, "I like to see a man proud of the place in which he lives. I like to see a man live so that his place will be proud of him."

And finally, FDR's remark was, "People acting in a group can accomplish that which no individual could ever hope to bring about."

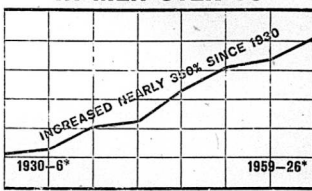

As in the case of the merchants and businesses and the Chamber of Commerce, it is obvious that we are all going in the same direction, so why not go hand-in-hand?

The basis of common sense is the knowledge that good men may differ, yet in their differences, agree. As we join our mutual pact in our Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce, let us support it by our actions, and our smiles.

Smiling is contagious, everybody like a sunny face to see. The mutual work which your chamber accomplishes will return as benefits to the subscriber again and again.

We could not accomplish all these goals so well or so economically, alone.

Happy Candidate Time

We're celebrating, you know. It's good ole hand-shakin', back-slappin', I-didn't-get-your-name-again-here's-my-card-again-thank you time again. "I'm electioneering, pardner. I'm a-runnin' for office."

We're knee-deep in candidates from the little offices to that big chair up Tallahassee way. Got Republicans running this time, too, don't forget. Must be important. They're having primaries, too.

Hope you read those little cards. Read all the newspaper articles. Listen to speeches and campaign for one of them. Here are a few post cards you should send to your friends. Take them. Thanks.

Investigate the candidates' statements carefully. Usually they're vague. They're masterpieces in ambiguous commentary. They're for churches, against sin and for motherhood. I think we need some roads, they say, I'll study that when I'm elected, they'll tell you.

As previously mentioned editorially in The Herald, if you'll watch carefully, now and then, every candidate will forget himself and be specific about watever issues there be about his office.

Meanwhile, jump on somebody's handwagon, buy 'em a handwagon, if they haven't built one. Get some cards and pass 'em out. Be a do-it-yourself political strategist. Out-guess them. Study them. Our county, state and national offices are important, you know.

We know of a country where you'd get the slats kicked out of you if you suggested a two-party system unless they were party-parties with funny hats and paper horns.

Politician time is favor time, too. Ask one of them to buy your breakfast, fix your road or backpork or something. They're agreeable, these candidates. Have fun, don't miss this gay, frivolous era.

Oh, yes, don't forget that little machine with the curtains. These marvelous little machines allow you to become a severe critic and make it stick. Happens everytime. Try it May 3.

Uncle Dan From Democrat River

Dear Mister Editor:

Spring of the year ain't too far off and the sap rises in politics just like trees, especially when it's a election year. The Democrats and Republicans is getting started to warm up privy good. Both sides is advocating everything for the pore man at wholesale prices while he's here on earth and a free tombstone fer him when he is departed.

When I was a boy the candidates rode around the country inventing lies about their opponents. Now they just set light at the television station and get a detective to dig up the truth on 'em.

Most of the candidates has two main planks in their platform. They talk about lower taxes in a election year but as soon as they get elected they start raising 'em. They handle the tax situation like the feller that bobbed off his dog's tail a inch at a time, figuring it would be easier on the dog. When the election is over, Mister Editor, you can get set for the Congress to bob off another inch or two, regardless of which side wins.

The second plank advocates a spending program calling for Federal aid to everything from baby sitters for factory workers. Folks has been getting this Federal aid in habit-forming doses, until it looks like they is on the staff for keeps.

It's too early yet to tell which side is getting the most bounce to the caucus. The Republicans is calling the Democrats "radical eggheads," and the Democrats is calling the Republicans

"Wall Street blockheads." Some of the voters is going to need a dictionary to find out what brand they prefer.

I note both parties is predicting a slide in business if the other side wins. It'll never happen. We solved that problem when we came up with the dollar down plan. All a store has got to do these days is put a live elephant in the window and offer him fer a dollar down and a dollar a week. He'll sell.

Speaking of Spring, there was one piece of real disturbing news in the papers last week. In my day a bad case of Spring fever was always cured by a dose of sulphur and molasses and a couple of fishing trips. Now this scientists comes out last week and diagnoses Spring fever as "Vernal Hyperplexia." There ain't no cure, I reckon, fer a thing with a name like that. The treatment, I'd guess, will be a few of them expensive "shots" and advice from the doctor to work harder and ferget about fishing. The fate of mankind, Mister Editor, sits worse in direct proportion to the increase in scientists and political candidates.

Yours truly,

Uncle Dan

Catholic Diocese Of Miami Begins Census April 24

A door-to-door census will be undertaken by the Catholic Diocese of Miami on Sunday, April 24.

More than 20,000 enumerators working in pairs will call at every home, motel and hotel in order to determine the number of Catholics in the area, who they are and where they live.

The diocesan office will cover the lower 16 counties of Florida. Directed by Bishop Coleman F. Carroll and carried out by the Diocesan Council of Catholic Men, the census is designed to yield information that will enable the Church to know better its present needs and to lay plans for future growth.

Bishop Carroll expressed gratitude to the general public for "the understanding and co-operation which we know will be accorded our apostolic prober by people of other faiths."

The enumerators will call at each residence to ask if any person living in the household was baptized a Catholic. If the reply is No, the men are instructed to "thank the respondent and proceed to the next dwelling."

At Catholic homes, the head of the family is expected to invite the enumerators inside for the interview.

Information that is gathered will reveal how many people in the diocese are over 65 years of age, the number of handicapped persons and how many college graduates are among the laity.

Results will also indicate the total enrollment of parochial schools, the number of Catholics in public schools and the number receiving religious instruction.

Men who will take the census have been schooled in its method by Landon G. Haynes, of the First Research Corporation. Practice sessions have been held at all parishes to familiarize men with census forms that will be tabulated electrically by International Business Machines.

Women Of Church Honor Mrs. Price

An Honorary Life Membership in the Women of the Church, Everglades Presbyterian Church, was presented to one of the faithful and diligent workers in the organization, Mrs. Katherine Price. The presentation was made by Mrs. C. Harry Powell of Miami Shores, president of the Women of the Church, Everglades Presbytery at the monthly meeting of the local group.

In presenting the membership in behalf of the Women of the Church Mrs. Powell told how much they honor Katherine in their own words:

"An active member in civic organizations—Woman's Club, Hospital Auxiliary, as well as church, Katherine was chosen in February, 1960, by the Business and Professional Women's Club as 'Woman of the Month' a well-deserved honor."

Upon the organization of the Everglades Presbyterian Church in 1957 Katherine and I. L. Price were among the charter members. She was our FIRST circle chairman, an inspiration to each member. At that time there was only one circle. Right on through the years Katherine has taught Sunday School, helped with the Vacation Bible Schools, kept the nursery, and has held many offices such as: Treasurer, Literature Secretary, Secretary of Spiritual Life and Evangelism, circle chairman more than once, and has been our historian since 1957.

Almost every communion table to observe the Lord's Supper in our little church has been prepared by Katherine's loving and devout hands.

Her home is truly "The House Beside the Road" and she is a "friend to man." The work of full meals and social gatherings are always something to share. Endless is the line of migrants who have been to her door because they knew she keeps a huge of clothing. How many are the little ones who have toys and goodies at Christmas because of her tireless efforts!

This is our beloved Katherine Price—never too busy to help, always encouraging to those who need it, always a spiritual inspiration by the Christian example she lives in both church and civic organizations. Such devotion to one's Lord and Savior surely will reap the reward of heaven which we all strive for.

The members of the Everglades Presbyterian Women of the Church are happy to present Katherine with an Honorary Lifetime Membership in our organization as a token of our love and appreciation for her labors as a fine Christian member of our church."

In addition to honoring Mrs. Price there was a program including the birthday celebration of the Women of the Church an annual event on the anniversary of the organization. The donation at this time goes to the only colored Presbyterian College, Stillman College.

Mrs. Price, daughter, Mrs. Albert Hinson attend the meeting to share in this happy event. Hostesses were Mrs. G. W. Crewes and Mrs. Victor Riedel.

The Book

By Nellie T. Segree

Christ performed many miracles during His short ministry here on earth. He said that if the people who listened to His words did not believe what He said, they should be convinced that He was sincere by the things He did. If His friends only believe that He really did the wonderful things recorded in the New Testament, we might think some of them were exaggerated because of their love for Him. However, that is not true. Many of His enemies admit the truth of the miracles.

Below are some of the miracles of Jesus.

1. What was the first miracle? John 1:1-11.
2. What was the place and the occasion for this miracle? John 1:1-11.
3. Whose mother-in-law did Jesus heal of a fever? Mark 9:30.
4. Whose daughter did He restore to life in Capernaum? Matt. 9:18, 19.
5. How many were fed with five loaves and two small fishes? Matt. 14:2.
6. Why did the Pharisees condemn Jesus for healing a man born blind? John 9.
7. How many lepers did He cleanse at one time in Samaria? Luke 17:11-19. How many of these turned back to glorify God?
8. Who was raised from the dead after lying four days in the grave? John 11.
9. What happened to the barren fig tree? Matt. 21:18-22.
10. Did the miracle of the draught of fishes occur before or after this? Luke 5:1-11.

What is the answer to the above questions? The answer is: "The Bible Quizzes." The Bible Quizzes are a series of questions and answers that will help you to know the Bible better.

Glades Market "Board Sales" Said Successful After Month of Trial

"Board Sales" — a livestock auction where cattle don't go, but buyers do, is an innovation underway at Glades Livestock Auction Market, Belle Glade, George C. Young, Manager of the Market explains "board selling" as an effort to meet the objections of both buyers and sellers to auction selling of certain types of cattle, generally slaughter grades such as U. S. Standard or U. S. Good and stocker cattle volume. "The cattlemen complain of too much 'shrink' and packers complain of excessive 're-butt' Both should be reduced in reduced handling of cattle and naturally since cattle won't move to be handled the commission for selling will be lower," Young said.

In "board selling" the seller is to sell a certain number of one group of cattle. On Wednesday before the regular Monday sale, he advises the market of the location where the cattle can be seen by potential buyers, he specifies where cattle are to be weighed (1) at the ranch, (2) by the packer at the packing house, or (3) some other location, possibly the auction market. The seller describes loading conditions where they will be loaded and when they will be available.

The Glades Market lists these cattle on its "board," a lined black board containing all the necessary information. The Market contacts all known buyers by wire, phone or otherwise, giving them the information.

This gives the buyers time to inspect the cattle at the ranch or farm prior to Monday's sale. These cattle, which won't be in the ring at all, will be auctioned to buyers who are present.

A large sheet describing each seller's listing is hung on the wall just back of the auctioneer during the auctioning period of each group or listing. The sheet gives all the pertinent information regarding the cattle.

Young says "There has been a lot of interest in the idea which the Glades Livestock Auction Market Association has been working on since last summer. Every effort has been made in effecting the plan to take into account the needs of the buyer and the seller. Sales have only recently started. 81 head of slaughter cattle (56 heifers and 25 steers) were sold 'on the board' the past week. Whether it will work or not.

Special Election Year Series

YOUR CANDIDATE

The year 1960 has been termed one of Florida's most important election years. From the governor's race to the smallest county office, a bevy of candidates announce their intentions to the public. Through this series, The Herald will introduce the readers to the various aspirants between now and election time.

John L. Remsen, Riviera Beach attorney and former resident of Lake Worth, seeks the District Two Board of Public Instruction seat in Palm Beach County.

Remsen said, "I am well aware of the responsibilities involved in membership on one of the most important policy-making boards in the county. This is particularly true since the board of public instruction is responsible for budgeting and spending the largest single portion of the tax dollar in the county."

He continued: "I will endeavor to develop a school program to meet our future educational needs and to formulate a systematic approach to the necessary school building program."

"Accomplishment, not authorship! I don't care WHO authors a legislative measure... only HOW it benefits the people of Florida."

During Next Decade Types Of Workers Needed Will Change

During the past decade, professional, office and sales workers as a group exceeded, for the first time in our history, the number of persons employed in manual occupations (skilled, semi-skilled and unskilled jobs).

During the coming decade, this trend will continue. The fastest growth will occur among professional and technical occupations, especially engineers, scientists and technicians. Among the manual occupations, the need for skilled craftsmen will increase, but the number of unskilled jobs will stay about the same, continuing their long-term relative decline.

About Farmers
Farm occupations and service occupations will remain about the same, although the farm workers will decline slightly while service occupations show some gain.

Education
The U. S. Labor Department survey shows that the biggest increases will occur in occupations requiring the most education and training.

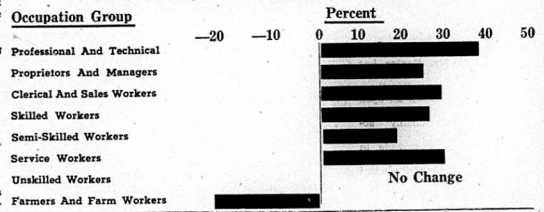

The average years of school completed of all those working in 1959 varied considerably as shown by the following figures:

Occupation Group	Years Schooling
Professional and Technical	16.2
Proprietors and Managers	12.4
Clerical and Sales	12.5
Skilled	11.0
Semi-Skilled	9.9
Service	9.7
Unskilled	8.6
Farmers and Farm Workers	8.5

Big Changes
These anticipated changes in employment in various occupations or occupational groups during the coming decade will result from several major causes:

1. The continuing shift from an agricultural economy to one that is predominantly industrial. 2. The rapid expansion in research and development activities.

Percent Change In Employment 1960-1970

ities. 3. The tremendously rapid increase in application of technological improvements. 4. The increasing size and complexity of business organization. 5. The widespread growth of record keeping among all types of enterprises. 6. The growing need for education and medical services.

Mobile Labor Force
Other factors to consider in the planning of our economy for the next decade is the mobility of our labor force.

Every year millions of workers voluntarily come in and out of the labor force. Many depart-time or seasonal work, and many are just beginning or ending their work careers. Each year millions of workers change jobs. More than eight million persons changed their jobs in a recent year. These eight million workers made 11 1/2 million job changes. About two-thirds of these job changes were to completely different industry. About half of them were to a completely different occupation group. Another point to remember is that millions of workers move from one place to another. As now living in a different but seven percent of all male state.

Xi Beta Gamma Discusses Events

The Xi Beta Gamma Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi held its regular meeting Thursday night, April 14, at the home of Mrs. Lorenzo Connell.

During the business meeting a letter was read about the State Convention, to be held at the Deauville Hotel on Miami Beach from June 3rd to June 5th of this year. More plans were discussed about the Founders Day Dinner, also the Spring Formal Dance to be held May 7.

Delicious refreshments carrying out the Easter Theme were served by the hostess, Mrs. Lorenzo Connell.

Other members present were: Mrs. Frank Anderson, Mrs. Ned Ayers, Mrs. Milton Carpenter, Mrs. Tom Chappell, Mrs. Rodney Connell, Mrs. Eddie Jones, Mrs. Louis Kirkman, and Mrs. James Williams.

Who's Who in Belle Glade Area

V. L. Dexter

Gas companies play an important part in the business and home life of any city and Mr. V. L. Dexter of Glades Gas Co., at 5 W. Ave. A, plays an outstanding role in the realm. Seeing marvelous potential in the rapidly growing Belle Glade area for a good gas service, this business has been operated with an eye on the future and has kept pace with the city's growth both in good products and service. That is why it continues, year after year, to attract a large and discriminating patronage.

In addition to his being an energetic worker in his own business affairs, Mr. Dexter has never refused to lend a hand in community affairs and in these matters he has shown an open mind and a generous attitude. These qualities probably account for his wide circle of friends that he has made in the area.

With his friendly attitude and background of service in this field V. L. Dexter will prosper in serving the people through Glades Gas Company.

Evie Dunlap

A good Restaurant is a vital link in the business cycle of any community and the Belle Glade area is fortunate to have Mrs. Evie Dunlap in a position where she may further good public relations. A substantial citizen, her business success can mainly be attributed to her belief that good food and good service are a most persuasive card.

The people of this area as well as our visitors have appreciated the good service and good food they always get at Cottage Grill at 80 E. Palm Beach Rd. and Evie feels that because of this she has an obligation to keep her standards high.

She has found time to lend a hand to the civic projects she felt were opportune and advantageous to Belle Glade and her confidence in this section's future growth is equalled only by her determination to do all she can to aid it.

We are sure that Cottage Grill with its top-notch service to the public, with the finest in food served family style and Mrs. Dunlap, with her unfailing courtesy and lively interest in progress, will do well in her business.

Jeri Green

Believing that South Bay has important things to offer the person of enterprise, Mrs. Jeri Green of Jeri's Bay of Beauty in South Bay, is carrying on business with an eye to expansion and development and has faithfully supported all moves for civic advancement. This policy has kept this establishment on a modern scale and has improved the service it renders to the public. Business people of this type are vital in the progress of any community.

Jeri has a sound basic knowledge of the latest hair styles and has created a business which adds to the convenience of a South Bay.

With Mrs. Green's satisfaction is a matter of pride, with which no compromise can be made. Seeming to realize this, her customers are lavish in their praise of the establishment and the person behind it. Such firms form a substantial trade area of which a city can be proud.

Lawrence Altman

The ability and energy of Mr. Lawrence Altman, 1105 N. E. 1st are doing much for the advancement of his business and therefore for the community for the Crop Dusters, Spraying, Seeding, Charter Flights and Student Instruction he renders is most valuable to the city. It is the good fortune of The Glades that this business was established.

Lawrence is a man that would be hard to top in effectiveness and achievement in flying service. He has a great practical knowledge of this business and by devoting much time to it, he has been able to overcome difficulties that would have discouraged most men. The large patronage extended to his business proves the efficiency of its operation and its popularity in this section.

Mr. Altman, a persistent and tireless booster for this section, has shown an unselfish devotion to the community interest.

Dean Congleton

The fine way that our close friends and neighbors run their business is oftentimes overlooked simply because we know them well and the prime purpose of this review is to bestow a little credit upon those who have, in one way or another, contributed their bit to improve both business and civic conditions.

One of the well known citizens who deserves mention is Mr. Dean Congleton of Friendly Super Market at 612 S. W. Ave. "E".

Dean has assumed a position of importance because of the business-like manner in which he has conducted his business and for the friendly relationship that exists between him, his employees and customers. This does much to aid in maintaining a friendly spirit throughout this section — a very important item toward progress.

Dean Congleton has been closely associated with many civic ventures and has always helped whenever his services were needed.

Delmas E. Wallis

In any community you will always find a number of men who have shown more progressiveness than the average and who also appreciate the fact that the greater service they can render in their business means a greater return and more success to the individual. These forthright principles have been applied by Mr. Delmas E. Wallis of Wallis Pharmacy at 258 S. Main, where prescriptions are "just what the doctor ordered" with the success that is so well known to his friends and associates.

"Dan" has proved very ably that he is a business man whose ability far exceeds the average. For it is largely due to his progressiveness coupled with a determination that all his customers shall be pleased that he and Wallis Pharmacy are rated among the best in this field.

It is a privilege to pay tribute to a man like Mr. Wallis. The way he has served the people of Belle Glade has made his business deserving of further success.

Ray Sullivan

A successful business is most often based on honest, cheerful, and efficient service to the public and in making this statement the person we have in mind is Mr. Ray Sullivan of Sullivan's Sunoco Service in South Bay. The courtesy and service rendered by this establishment is proved by the popularity and patronage it enjoys not only from South Bay but from all over the area.

Business establishments such as Sullivan's Sunoco service have done much to make this a good all-around trade center, and it is fitting that we extend congratulations to Ray who is the guiding influence behind the successful operation of the business.

Ray has earned his success by the method in which he has accepted both civic and business responsibilities and we are sure that with the high standard he has set for himself in the operation of his custom blend Sunoco Station, he will continue to prosper in South Bay.

Paul Bearden

In business as in baseball, yesterday's hits will not win today's game. Seeming to realize this, Mr. Paul Bearden of Paul's Market at 200 S. W. 6, has endeavored to keep in step with the times and retain his reputation as a respected businessman.

An energy Paul has given to Paul's Market, he has also been given to all endeavors in which he has been associated. In Belle Glade area, there are few movements for civic betterment in which Paul has not assisted.

In the operation of his popular market he displays a perfection of good taste and harmony, which one rarely sees, such as all the extra services that make a good market better.

We wish to congratulate Mr. Bearden on past success and wish him many more years of continued success.

Vance Broome

Mr. Vance Broome of The Georgie Store at 257 S. W. 5th St. has constantly endeavored to understand local conditions and to direct his business operations in a manner that will please the local people. He and the service he renders deserve our praise in this review.

People in the Belle Glade area have found it a pleasure to patronize The Georgie Store where service is friendly and courteous. Businesses of this high type have done much to raise the prestige of the Belle Glade area as a substantial business section.

With a foundation of reliability Vance has not relied on past records for today's prosperity. He is constantly adding to and bringing more up-to-date service for his customers and is one of the area's most ardent supporters for any civic move.

Vance Broome by his fair and honest business practices has earned a commendable reputation for himself and for his Market as well.

Things Corvair gives you that America's other compact cars can't:

Through this series, The Herald will introduce the readers to the various aspirants between now and election time.

John D. Kruse, Ft. Lauderdale attorney, is a Republican candidate for the Sixth Congressional District U. S. Representative chair held by Paul Rogers, Democrat.

Kruse is facing opposition in the Republican primary from Richard Milne, also of Ft. Lauderdale. A practicing attorney for nearly five years, Kruse, is a 34-year-old native of Peterson, Iowa.

If elected, Kruse proposes to abolish the farm program and return to the law of supply and demand. He pledges to work in the direction of reducing government in business.

He states that he is not in favor of the repeal of the Connolly amendment because repeal would subject citizens to a World Court on domestic issues. Kruse believes labor unions should be put under the same antitrust laws as management to balance the bargain.

ing power, but at the same time must not jeopardize the great necessary gains made by organized labor.

Your Library

An old Chinese proverb - A journey of a thousand miles begins with a single step. A single book can begin a thousand adventures. Mrs. Clemans, a great reader of books give a resume of several she has chosen from the library shelves this week.

The Street of the Laughing Camel by Ben Lucien Burman. This is as story of a latter-day Huck Finn - African style. Here are the irresistible adventures (and misadventures) of Yance Collins, Texas cowboy and Ex. GI, who opens a laundry in Algeria. Yance's laundry is no mere vital to the African life than the Ferris Wheel. He subsequently operates, his general store in the heart of the congo. This strange story is as refreshing as an oasis in the desert. Yance tells the whole thing himself in a manner that makes the most lovable and engaging American ever sent abroad. The author also wrote the book "Steamboat 'Round the Bend'" which became Will Rogers' most successful film.

Alas Babylon by Pat Frank: This is not a Biblical story but a code sentence between brothers. True, the title is from the Revelations, this story concerns two brothers who in times of trouble used the words as a code. One brother a high ranking air force officer wires his brother, located in a central Florida Community to meet him in Orlando, discloses the menace of a bomb attack on the U. S. A. urging him to prepare for survival. He sends his wife and children to stay in Florida with his brother. The bombs do drop on Miami, Tampa, Pensacola, Orlando and all major cities are wiped out. The dramatic story deals with the problems of sheer survival, and how the characters of this fascinating story do survive. It is one of the most gripping. Mrs. Clemans says I have ever read,

Eugenie McCabe Receives Diploma In Dramatic Art

Miss Eugenie McCabe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. McCabe, Belle Glade, Florida, received a diploma from Lillian Gish, of the Board of Trustees; and Worthington Minor, vice president; at the 76th graduation ceremonies of the American Academy of Dramatic Arts in New York. Eugene Fuller, president of the non-profit dramatic training school announced here.

Distinguished guests, of the American Theatre, present at the commencement included: Moss Hart, author of the best-selling autobiography, "Act One," who made the keynote address; Lawrence Langner, co-founder of the Theatre Guild and Academy's Board chairman, who presided; Howard Lindsay, playwright; and vice president and Philip Wittenberg, Secretary of the Academy; and Garson Kanin, a former graduate, now author playwright and director.

Frances Fuller, president, reminded the graduates who now join the ranks of thousands who graduated since the first "drama college" of the English-speaking world was founded in 1864, that many former students did not pursue the theatre as a career but made names for themselves in other fields. She cited Dale Carnegie, and Georgia Neese Clark who became a Treasurer of the United States. She urged the 1960 graduates to remember the basic teachings of the Academy, which is the development of the individual as a person with self-understanding.

Some former students known to the public are Cecil B. De Mille, Kirk Douglas, Jim Backus, Dina Merrill, Don Murray and Marion Lorne. Thelma Ritter, Edward G. Robinson, Rosalind Russell, Tom Poston and Florence Henderson. Three who won Hollywood Academy Awards are: Jennifer Jones, Grace Kelly and Spencer Tracy, who won the "Oscar" two successive years.

Police Break B&E Cases Wide Open

Glades law enforcement officers cooperated this week to solve a string of breaking and entering cases at South Bay and Belle Glade, according to Police Chief Charles Goodlett.

Two Belle Glade Negroes have been placed in the hands of the Glades office of the county sheriff's department this week after statements were obtained from the two men, Goodlett said.

The activities in the cases cleared up all but three breaking and entering incidents in the books since last September at Belle Glade.

Jessie James Robinson and William Walker were both connected with the cases. Walker allegedly broke into more than a half dozen establishments more than once, Robinson allegedly worked with him on a dozen breakings.

South Bay Police Officer Buddy Harrell and Eight District Constable Ralph Kirk apprehended Robinson Monday while Robinson was breaking into the South Bay bus station.

Through a questioning period, Walker was implicated and Glades police picked up Walker.

Most Classes Sell Steadily To Higher

Most cattle classes ranged steadily to higher at the Monday Glades Livestock Market sale where 655 cattle returned $89, 108-39 and 34% of the offering went to slaughter, according to the weekly market bulletin.

Only ten percent of the offering was cows; 93% of them sold as slaughter animals. Slaughter prices were steady to $1.00 higher; heifers and bulls were steady; calves $1.00-2.00 higher; cows steady to $1.00 lower.

Stock prices were steady to $1.00 lower. Steers (116) 12.00-24.50; heifers (14) 17.00-21.00; calves (128) 16.25-29.50; cows (6) 13.50-15.25; bulls (9) 14.50-19.25.

Stock prices were steady to $1.00 lower. Steers (247) 14.50-23.50; heifers (22) 14.25-19.75; calves (258) 16.00-26.25; cows (6) 13.50-15.25; bulls (9) 14.50-19.25.

Sales of Florida-produced top quality fresh eggs continue to increase over interstate sales of shipped and cold storage eggs.

POLITICKIN' HAS HIT THE YOUNGER GENERATION as seen here at two Belle Glades lassies dispute the merits of their respective candidates. This gives us a change to make the remark that one can't start too young to investigate parties in good government. Anyway, they're both Democrats, and it's nice they can agree on something, we think.

Horn Resigns From B. G. P. D.

Following is a letter of resignation by Bob V. Horn, former Belle Glade policeman, to City Manager C. B. Talmadge. Horn requested that the letter be published in answer to remarks by certain citizens that he was dismissed.

"Dear Mr. Talmadge: "Due to certain commitments pressing me at this time, it is with the utmost regret that I request the approval of my immediate resignation effective this date (Apr. 6) from the City of Belle Glade."

"Although I have been a resident of the city for a short period, I have seen its growth and modern changes leading to a great future city, brought about by the ability and knowledge of its governmental leaders and great citizens."

"Therefore I regret that I cannot remain and share in this great achievement. To all the people of Belle Glade, I am Respectfully yours, Bob V. Horn, Belle Glade Police Dept."

Army Education Now Being Offered

The United States Army runs the largest educational institution in the world. From the Far East to Europe and back to the States the sun never sets on learning in the Army.

At the heart of the Army's educational network are the Service Schools with their imposing curriculum of technical courses. These schools are run by the Army itself. Their mission is to turn out military specialists in more than four hundred job classifications. In Army schools, learning is the full time task of the soldier. He is paid to study and the education received is well worth his time and effort.

Newest—and for the high school senior, perhaps the most interesting and beneficial—of the educational opportunities of ferred by the Army is the Graduate Specialist Program. The Graduate Specialist Program is open only to high school seniors and graduates. Such young men and women who can qualify are given their choice from among 107 Army technical courses. The unique feature of the program is this — the enlistee is guaranteed the course of his choice before he enters the service. This guarantee is given in writing and takes into account available quotas in the various courses offered. High School seniors are offered a special privilege the Army calls "Early Choice." Under this option, the senior may apply for Graduate Specialist training during the sixty days before he graduates from high school. The advantage of this plan is that the senior can nail down the course of his choice before quotas are filled. Local Army Recruiter Sgt. Ron Rosser advised that those young men interested in obtaining detailed information about this special Army schooling and service obligation can contact him at his office located at 319 S. Dixie Highway, West Palm Beach or telephone him at TEmple 2-8558.

EXCERPTS FROM BRYANT'S STATE-WIDE TELECAST Mar. 28

SITDOWNS . . . Two weeks ago in Tallahassee, certain colored people went into a store, sat down at a lunch counter reserved for white people, and demanded to be served. The manager of the store closed his lunch counter, but they remained until the police drove them away.

What happened in Tallahassee is a direct, unvarnished, frontal attack on the institution of private property, on the free enterprise society in which we live, and on the fundamental constitutional guarantee that no citizen's property shall be taken from him without due process of the law.

I reject the contention made by some that there is anything immoral about a merchant selecting his customers, or laying down the conditions under which he is willing to do business.

This is my stand. If I were your governor I would use every power of the State to preserve the law and order, and use the full prestige of the governor's position to sustain the integrity of the institution of private property.

SEGREGATION . . .

I believe there can be no doubt in your minds as to my position on the question of segregation. I simply believe that segregation is the spoudest policy for Florida, for both its races, in its public schools and out. As your governor I will exercise every constitutional power of the office to maintain segregation, and to do so peacefully. I am determined that in that effort our schools shall never be closed.

"Don't Surrender Our U. S. Defense" Post 20 Urges

Resolutions protesting against any action by our Congress or President Eisenhower which will in any way detract from our national defense and most particularly against any action to eliminate our defense forces or to participate in any international police force, were approved Tuesday by the membership of Everglades American Legion Post 20, according to Commander Randolph Livingston.

Introduced by 20 Americanism Chairman Lawrence E. Will, the resolution cited the fact that proposals are set to be considered at the forthcoming summit meeting in Geneva toward total disarmament and nuclear test bans.

The resolution states in part: "Whereas the United States has previously tried disarming, but was not joined by other nations, and it has been amply demonstrated that the Soviet Union will honor no agreements except those beneficial to itself, and whereas, the defense of this country would be seriously injured, and it is agreed to disarm it would amount to surrender of our national sovereignty to a world government controlled by the Communist nations" it was resolved that the post strongly urge our national leaders to resist such action.

Copies of the resolution were ordered sent to our leaders in Washington including our national representatives.
